Your order just arrived

A 25-second product Reel that follows one parcel from your table to your customer's hands. Here's every clip to film, in order, with where to put your phone.

4 clips · about 25 seconds · film upright

how it looks finished

1 The doorstep — at least 6 s

The parcel landing on the doorstep or sitting there waiting. Start recording before it lands so you catch the drop.

Phone: propped at knee height, facing the door. Daylight from the side shows the box best.

2 On its way — at least 3 s

Pick one: you packing it at your table, handing it to the courier, or the parcel in a bag on the move.

Phone: above the table for packing. Three seconds is short, so start on the action: the tape going on, the hand-off.

3 The unboxing — at least 7 s

Hands opening it: lid off, tissue back, the product lifted out. This is the longest clip, so let it breathe.

Phone: straight above the box, or across the table at eye level. Get the lid off within the first 2 seconds.

4 In use — at least 4 s

Your product doing its job in a real place: the candle lit on a shelf, the mug in a hand, the brush in hair.

Phone: close, at the height you'd see it in real life. Real rooms look better here than a plain backdrop.

film all four in one go: one parcel, one afternoon

Words to put on screen

They go in this order over the clips. Keep each line to 1 to 3 words: a slash starts a new line.

On screen	Your version, for example
POV: your [product] / just arrived	POV: your candle / just arrived
[out for delivery...]	out for delivery...
[delivered!]	delivered!
[what's inside?]	what's inside?
[packed with / love + a little / surprise]	packed with / love + a little / surprise
comment "[KEYWORD]"	comment "CANDLE"

Before you film

- Pack a real order (or a sample one) with the extras you always add: the card, the tissue, the sticker.
- Clean the lens and turn off portrait mode.
- Record each clip a second or two longer than its time, so you have room to trim.

Caption idea

Every order gets packed by hand, card and all. Which one would you open first? Comment "[KEYWORD]" and I'll send you the link.

Want it already edited?

This Reel is template 12 in the Product Reel Template Pack: the CapCut project with the graphics, timing and cover built in, so you drop these four clips in and post. The pack has 25 like it, about a month of product Reels.

scrollyseo.com/product-reels